DUBAI: Dolmen, a privately owned Lebanese company specializing in real estate development and a subsidiary of The Phoenician Holding, has announced it will showcase the Falougha residential projects and Ain zhalta project, comprising high-end luxurious villas within the scenic location in Mount Lebanon.

To be held at the Abu Dhabi National Exhibition Centre from 19-22 April, Cityscape Abu Dhabi is the region's premier real estate investment and development event focusing on all aspects of the property development cycle. Featuring more than 38,000 sq meters of exhibition space, this year's edition is positioned to be the largest one to date.

During its inaugural participation at Cityscape Abu Dhabi (Stand No. 2A30), Dolmen aims to showcase the two exclusive communities of Jannat Falougha and Falougha Homes. While Falougha Homes will sprawl over 26,650 sq meters of land and comprise 19 luxurious three-floor villas, Jannat Falougha will encompass 11 purpose-built villas over a 30,000 sq meter area.

Mohamad Ayash (CEO of Dolmen), said: "Over the past few years, Cityscape Abu Dhabi has built a reputation for being one of the leading real estate events in the region. As a committed developer of world-class projects, Dolmen is pleased to showcase the exclusive Falougha project at the event that offers a great opportunity to meet top notch real estate professionals and key investors from around the world. We are delighted to share our vision during the exhibition and look forward to receiving a significant footfall at our stand."

Falougha, meaning 'the divide' in Syriac, is a premier residential community that is fast taking shape as an ideal traditional summer resort. Located within a short driving distance from Beirut, the development is conveniently located along the Beirut-Damascus highway. With two winter rivers passing through Falougha and scenic mountains surrounding the self-contained town, the development will integrate traditional Lebanese architecture, custom designs and interior decor.
